Libidextra Men

The confidence you want
for the connection you desire

Regular high-quality sex is an integral component of men's health.

It's not a commonly discussed topic,
But when there's sexual problems,
they can affect a man's overall health in a negative manner.

So what's the correlation between men's sexual energy and self-esteem

A man can be confident about several things in his life. Still, a lack of quality sex will inevitably affect his sense of self-esteem, emotional state, and relationships with loved ones.

No more sex: The words that worry the male half of humanity

- About 50% of men between 40 and 70 year worry about possible decreases in sexual activity*;
- 14-19% of men report regular low or decreased sexual desire, and this is a problem for them **.

How problems manifest themselves in men's sex life:

Decreased Libido*

Weaker sexual capabilities (potency)

Libido is a sexual attraction, a desire for some kind of sexual activity.

These can be thoughts, sexual fantasies, and the desire for sex.

It can sometimes precede sexual contact or occur in

A decrease in libido and a weakened sexual capabilities can occur due to:

Stress

Sleep deprivation

An unbalanced diet with an excess of fatty foods

Overworked

Bad habits (smoking, alcohol)

Mental and Physical Strain

The inextricable link of desires and opportunities

A high-quality sex life that brings vivid emotions, pleasure, and satisfaction depends not only on the strength of their desire but also on the physiological ability of men to have sexual contact. Good blood circulation plays a fundamental role in this. Potency-stimulating drugs give a temporary effect activating blood flow to the penis on a one-time basis. When the pill's effect ends it's over.

A healthy body – A healthy libido

At the moment of sexual arousal, blood flows to the penis, increasing its size. This is how an erection occurs, which is impossible without sexual attraction and normal blood circulation in the pelvic organs.

Damask Rose oil — the passion elixir

Sexuality and fragrances are inextricably linked. Essential oil from the Damask Rose is a powerful aphrodisiac that has been used since ancient times.

Bulgaria is the world leading producer of rose oil. The country's climate allows for planting unusually fragrant varieties of roses from the petals produced by this valuable component.

To get 1 gram of oil, you need 4 kg of rose petals.
